Aero Engine Solutions Hosts Their 2nd Annual Pickleball Tournament Benefiting Aerospace Salutes

Aero Engine Solutions (AES) proudly hosted its 2nd Annual Pickleball Tournament on Friday, December 12th, bringing together industry peers, community members, and friends for a day filled with friendly competition and great energy. Thanks to our sponsors and donors commitment and generosity, we raised $21,950 in support of our veterans, first responders, and Gold Star families.

Aerospace Salutes' mission is to ensure these deserving individuals receive the support they need while making a tangible and lasting difference in their lives. The funds raised through the tournament will directly support these efforts. A highlight of the event was the presentation of a $5,000 gift to Major Lewis, his wife, and their 13 children, helping to support the family during the holiday season. Major Lewis honorably served as a KC-130 Crew Chief from 1998 to 2006, including one year stationed in Okinawa, Japan, and three deployments to Iraq. This contribution underscored the spirit of service, gratitude, and community that defined the tournament.

Thank You's

First and foremost, Aero Engine Solutions extends its sincere appreciation to all participating companies, guests, and individuals who supported the event - from those just down the street to supporters across the globe. We wanted to extend a special thank you to Flight Power Repair Group, whose generous support as Top Gun Sponsor and largest donor played a key role in the event's success. AES also gratefully acknowledges Global Turbine Services and SAL Aerospace, our Gold Valor Sponsors. Your continued support is deeply appreciated.

“Together, we were able to make a meaningful impact for those who have served and sacrificed. We look forward to building on this momentum in the years to come. Semper Fi!” said CEO and President Tyler Norman.
